
LIFE A Permission to be safe

You stayed on the safe path. Same kind of work, deeper in. You sleep well. What does your week look like? What relaxes – and what part of you is bored?

What does this life long for – and what part of me dreads it?

be specific. "stability" is too vague.

LIFE B Permission to go wild

No one's watching. Money doesn't matter. Ridicule doesn't matter. What did you give yourself permission to do? What shows up? What lights up – and what part of you is terrified?

What does this life long for – and what part of me dreads it?

LIFE C Permission to reinvent

Your Life A got commodified... even the machines do it now. But you still have your craft, and some new tricks. You built something that didn't exist before. What did you invent? What got more interesting... and what part of you is excited, or scared?

What does this life long for... and what parts of me dread it? _____

FORM-04 One 4-Week Experiment

Pick ONE specific element from any life above... something that is NOT in your current life. Give yourself permission to try it (even if it turns out useless). Run it for four weeks.

SMALL • SPECIFIC • WITH EVIDENCE • SHARED

The smallest thing I'll let myself try

☐ _____

The parts that are scared... what would reassure them

☐ _____

What I'll notice along the way

☐ _____

☐ I can't wait to tell _____ how it went.

pedori.com/mosaic

Handout PDF · 5-min follow-up walkthrough · 30-day check-in.

ALEX PEDORI · Wetwarecraft & Engineering · ifs-collective.com

